I learned that my family has traditions. We invite friends over for Christmas and New Year and put up a tree for both, too. On my birthday we have cake to celebrate. We also give each other presents for each others' birthday. On Valentine's Day, we give each other Valentine cards. Since all of my relatives except for my brother are Russian, we celebrate Woman's Day on March 8. That's when boys do something special for girls. We also go to Russia every summer for at least a month. To make my ornament I went on a nature walk with my class and collect different things from nature. Then we pressed things down. We then arranged the things the way we want and put glue on top. Then we put 1 layer of crumpled kleenex and put glue on it. I like the way it turned out. I think it looks really pretty.

I learned that my family has traditions. We are Greek so we don't really celebrate American traditions. But we celebrate Christmas and Thanksgiving. A tradition in my family is that at weddings we always do Greek dancing and eating baklava. I made my ornament in honor of the holy cross. I shaped the leaves around the daisy in the form of a cross.
